Introduction

The first weeks and months are vital to the success of any appointment. The arrangements made for introducing a new employee, volunteer or governor to the duties of the post, and to the school as a whole, provide the foundation for successful and safe contribution to the school. The Induction Programme is designed to help new employees and Support and Scrutiny Board members to become familiar with the requirements of their position and learn about the school culture, ethos and working practices effectively and efficiently so that they become knowledgeable and confident as quickly as possible. The Induction Programme should be cross-referenced with the ECT Induction Programme.

Aims

A tailored effective induction for staff, volunteers and Support and Scrutiny Board members is the best opportunity to ensure new members of the team are clear about their role and management expectations.

All members of the school community are valued and respected as individuals and as members of the school team. It is important that new staff are welcomed into the whole school team and helped to establish their role and position within the team. It is vital that new staff settle quickly and happily into school and gain a knowledge and understanding of the philosophy and ethos that drives the 'Overley way'.

The induction process will:

- Enable the inductee to meet key members of staff and begin to feel part of the 'Overley Family'.
- Allow the inductee to experience and understand Overley Hall's ethos, routines and practices
- Provide, if appropriate, a tour of the school and information about facilities, answering questions and giving practical advice.
- Provide information and training on the school's policies and procedures

- Provide Child Protection training and time to assess its effectiveness
- Enable the colleague to ask any questions that they may have.
- Contribute to the colleague's sense of job satisfaction and personal achievement.
- Explain the school's Code of Conduct to ensure that all inductees understand what is expected of them and their actions.
- Identify and address any specific training needs
- Ensure that the process is evaluated.

Definitions.

Induction: An induction is the initiation provided by a school to a new employee, board member or volunteer to ensure that they have all the information they require to carry out their role effectively.

Role & responsibilities.

The induction of all new members of the team is an important aspect of school life and is essential in maintaining and developing the school ethos. It is essential that everyone knows who is responsible for giving them support and guidance.

Inductor/ Trainer

Overley Hall School have allocated Mandy Peever (Key stage 2-3 Coordinator) to manage staff induction. Volunteers will be inducted by an appropriately allocated member of staff and new Board members will be inducted by the Chair of the Board and Head Teacher.

Process

Prior to induction taking place it is important that:

- Arrangements are made to ensure that a new member of staff, volunteer or Board member is welcomed.
- Any immediate needs are identified

The induction programme will be tailored according to the individual needs and position of the inductee but typically inductions for teaching staff and assistants will include:

- an induction checklist of the policies, procedures and training to be covered
- an induction timetable
- details of help and support available
- details of work shadowing, if appropriate
- a diary of induction/probation meetings
- details of other relevant individuals with responsibility for induction e.g. the designated mentor or supervisor
- appropriate information, training, observation, and mentoring.
- Safeguarding Children and Children Protection (including Prevent) will feature prominently in every induction programme.

Along with the mandatory training listed below

- Safeguarding children and children protection
- Health and safety
- Fire and emergency procedures
- First aid
- Code of Conduct
- GDPR (data protection)
- Positive Behaviour Support Plan Documents (PSP)

- Higher level Autism Training
- Training around cochlear implants
- Talking Mats – Licensed trainer
- Eating difficulties or disorders
- IOSH Training

Volunteers and governors will also require an effective induction. Like all staff they need to be given an appropriate induction, so they know what to do in an emergency or if there is a safeguarding issue. They will also require like all staff clear guidance on what steps to take to avoid putting themselves in situation when malicious allegations could be made against them.

Supply Teachers and Agency Staff

All new supply teachers and agency staff should be given appropriate induction advice, training and resources by an appropriate member of staff. This should include:

- Safeguarding children and children protection
- Health and safety
- Fire and emergency procedures
- First aid
- Code of Conduct
- Behaviour management policy
- Relevant information from the Staff Handbook;
- Relevant information on curriculum, schedules and timetables

School Support and Scrutiny Board (Governance).

All new SAS Board members will be given appropriate induction advice, training and resources. This will include:

- Safeguarding children and children protection
- Health and safety
- Fire and emergency procedures
- First aid
- Code of Conduct
- Current relevant school information, policy documents and School Improvement Plan data.
- School brochure including staffing, Ofsted and school performance data
